Some farmers in Driftwood township plowed furrows around fields which were in danger of being infested, but it is said the pest crawled through the ditches. Whether or not other means will be used to combat them has not been decided.

Purdue University entomologists who are co-operating with state authorities in combatting the pest in an effort to prevent it from spreading to other sections declare that the furrow method is effective if the sides of the ditches are dragged with a log so that they smooth. The worms have difficulty in crawling through fine dust, it is said, and when they reach the sides of the REDDNIGTON WINS FAST GAME furrows they fall to the bottom of the ditch and may then be sprinkled with creosote which causes their Defeated Nelson Factory Team by destruction

Another method is to throw a poison bait over the infested fields. This bait is prepared in several different ways and any poisonous substance is effective. Molasses, a few oranges, ground up fine, or other staged at the Nelson Furniture Facsweet substance, is mixed with the tory diamond north of the factory poison.

Senator Warren G. Harding's eary passion for the cornet blasted a promising career at law.

While studying law in Marion. Ohio, he joined the village cornet band. The band was naturally a popular institution and it performed at all ceremonies and picnics. Young Harding found it took considerable money to attend all these functions. Unable to earn enough at his vocation, he abandoned it rather than give up the instrument and the esthetic and corporeal pleasures it gave him. It is also chronicled that Harding first became a candidate for the office of president of the United States at the age of 12. His father, Dr. George T. Harding, vouched for the story. Harding announced his candidacy to a group of companions while the church bell was being tolled on Washington's birthday.

"You'll see the day when bells will be ringing for me," he told them 'I'm going to grow up to be a great man and be president myself.

HARDING WANTED TO

crashed on the financial rocks and Harding gathered what he could from the wreckage and stepped out. He was hired as a reporter on the Marion Mirror. It was a Democratic newspaper and solidly back of Grover Cleveland. Harding paraded into the office wearing his plug hat and brought down on himself the wrath of the editor. Harding was unconcerned and kept on flaunting that republican headpiece everywhere he went. He overstepped all bounds when he succeeded in inserting several editorial comments decidedly uncomplimentary to Grover Cleveland and he was thrown out of the office. The editor simply couldn't restrain himself in the face of this double outrage.

Harding's taste for the newspaper business developed into an insatiable appetite and with the assistance of a friend, who in turn enlisted the financial support of other friends, repurchased the Star. He later bought up his partner's share and conducted the paper himself. This time Harding found the road to prosperity and he made a daily out of his paper.

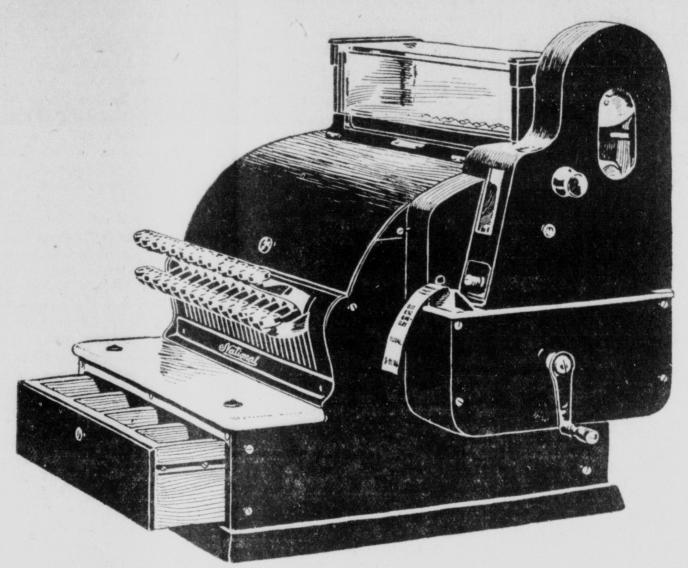

Harding developed into an orator of ability and found himself in great demand for the stump. He helped a number of candidates into office and decided to try for an office for himself. So he ran for the state senate and won out. Harding won an important place in the law-making body and advanced rapidly until his reelection in 1901 and when he became the republican leader of the senate.

He decided to capitalize his steadily growing popularity and announced his candidacy for lieutenant-governor. With Myron T. Herrick, gubernatorial candidate, he rode into office without difficulty. From then on his influence in the republican party increased until he was accorded national recognition. In 1910 he was nominated for governor but fell before the Demoeratic landslide of that year.

William Howard Taft and Harding had been warm, personal friends for a long time and in 1912 it was decided to entrust Harding with Taft's nominating address before the national convention in Chicago. His strong personality striking appearance and oratorial ability made him one of the outstanding figures of that turbulent session.

In 1914 there was a persistent demand for Harding to declare himself a candidate in the senatorial race. He was hesitant and held off because of his friendship for Joseph B. Foraker speaker of the house, who was

Good Silverware is Always A Good Investment

CILVERWARE is one of the O necessities of housekeeping. Knives, forks, spoons, etc., are always needed and as there is nothing in the household that is subject to more constant use, it is scarcely necessary to suggest that the greatest economy lies in the purchase of silverplate that will give the longest wear. When it comes to the matter of durability you are always safe if you select

F. L. Atwood -

This is possibly the largest job of industrial financing ever undertaken by Indiana in her own wight. It is of such magnitude that a syndicate of Indianapolis banks, trust companies and investment dealers has been formed to handle it. To the trained financier, the attractiveness of this issue, from an investment standpoint, is immediately obvious.

In the first place, you are putting your money into a great, established industry right here at home—an industry managed by men whom you know, perhaps personally-men with reputations for doing big things successfully, and for making their successes stick.

Into the Midwest enterprise have gravitated leading Indianapolis manufacturers, capitalists, and business men-the type of men who have finally helped to lift Indianapolis out of the overgrown country town class and planted her firmly on an equality basis with the other recognized industrial centers of America.

The Midwest Engine Company of Indianapolis is the preface to the industrial history of the greater Indianapolis that is to be.

It embodies the new Indianapolis winning spirit and determination and vision. And yet, in policy, it does not depart from precedents of conservatism and steady management established by the older industrial successes of the city. The only essential in which the Midwest Engine Company differs from the half dozen or so other big, notable industrial successes of Indianapolis lies in the manner and circumstance of its origin and growth.

The growth of the Midwest Engine Company has been necessarily sudden.

It sprang into existence almost over night in response to the country's war needs. The war history of the Midwest Engine Company should be prized by every loyal Indianapolis man, woman and child. Its original organization was as much a patriotic move as a business move. Somebody had to produce a terrific amount of horse power in an incredibly short time-and Indiana capital and business experience rushed forward to meet the emergency. Three-quarters of a million horse power was produced by the Midwest Engine Company in record-breaking time. Midwest made good on every commitment. Among all the turbines produced during the emergency, Midwest turbines made the best showing in governmental tests. Midwest internal combustion engines did trustworthy service on the actual field of battle, and brought world credit to the manufacturing skill of Indianapolis.

The war ended as suddenly as it had begun.

At the time the armistice was signed, the Midwest Engine Company was devoting ninety-eight per cent of its facilities to war work. During the following year, a smooth switch was made to peace production, without loss of time or money. In 1919 the company operated at a profit. Considering the magnitude of the industry, skillful change from war to peace production, on a profit basis, was a supreme demonstration of the Midwest Engine Company's sheer musiness ability.

The most conclusive demonstation of Midwest ability, however, lies in the judgment and long-headedness displayed by the management in laying out a permanent manufacturing plan for the future—in selecting something to make.

The present period of market fluctuation and buying restlessness of the country was anticipated by Midwest and prepared for. The terrific demand for the basic necessities made by the Midwest Engine Company proves that in catering to the unwavering demand for food, Midwest policy is fundamentally sound. No matter what happens in this country or in the foreign market, there can never be any disturbance in the marketing of Midwest products-because the need for Midwest products is basic and founded solely on necessity. As long as men must eat, Midwest Utilitors and Midwest Truck and Tractor Engines will sell in greater quantities than they can ever be pro-

The safety of your investment in Midwest stock lies in the following facts:

1. You are putting your money into a big, going institution which has made money from the beginning and is going to go on making money permanently.

2. You are putting your money in the hands of men you know, men whose ability is a proved quantity, men who have lived with you and who are going to go on living with you and coming in daily contact with you. THIS BEATS BACKING STRANGERS.

3. The most courageous, and, at the same time, the most conservative and safe type of Indianapolis business man can be found on the board of directors of the Midwest Engine Company. These men are the very ones to whom you would go for sound business advice in any important situation. Everything with which they have ever been associated has been successful in a big way.

4. Today there are more than thirty thousand unfilled orders for Utilitors alone on the books of the Midwest Engine Company, and the demand for the new Midwest, high speed, heavy duty truck and tractor engine is even greater. If Midwest made nothing but this engine and the Utilitor, it would be one of the biggest industries in America.

5. But Midwest makes other things besides—notably a standard line of pumps and turbines at the Anderson plant—a line bought consistently and in great quantities throughout America and abroad.

6. Your investment is secured by actual physical assets of surpassing value—a main plant covering sixty-five acres of ground, with floor space totaling 608,000 square feeta branch plant at Anderson covering five acres with 98,000 square feet of floor space -- acres of the most modern equipment—a merchandise inventory of well over two million dollars over and above the land, buildings and equipment appraisement of more than five and a quarter millions. And all this leaves out of consideration the good will of a big, going business whose value can scarcely be computed in dollars and cents.

7. The Midwest Engine Company has developed and is marketing a machine that will unquestionably become to the farm what the best-known small car has become to the road. Utilitors will in time be as plentiful as this same noted small car. The man who gets an interest in the Midwest Engine Company now is long-headed. 8. This time you get an allotment of common stock along with your secured 8 per cent, tax-exempt preferred—and, so far as your common goes, there is no limitations on how much you can make on it excepting the physical limitations of the big Midwest plants. Incidentally, this is the first time you have ever had an opportunity to participate in the earnings of one of Indianapolis' big industries.

9. Leading banks, trust companies and investment dealers of Indianapolis are offering this issue. This is the most far-reaching industrial move ever undertaken by the financial interests of Indiana. Are you going to participate? Full particulars on application.

HOME MADE RECIPE CATARRH AND COLDS

Nonexpensive-Cut This Out.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Ask your druggist for three quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine and pour it into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat so clean and healthy that germs of flu or any other germs will have a hard time gaining a foothold.

WAS NERVOUS AND RUN DOWN

RESTORED TO NORMAL HEALTH BY BIO-FEREN

"I feel I owe you people a world of gratitude for the benefit I have received in using your wonderful remedy—Bio-feren Tablets, which have completely restored me to normal conditions," says Joseph E. Webb of Muncie, Indiana.

Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest and quickest remedy for nervous, run down, weak, ænemic men and women ever offered direct through the druggists and is not at all expensive.

Take two after each meal and one at bed time, and after seven days take one after each meal and one at bed time until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue-if you are not in better health-if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen minded, yes, twice as much as you did before, the druggist who sold you the tablets will gladly hand back just what you paid for

All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand, or can easily get it for you.

He stood up and towered above her sternly. "I must build it, Shirley. I've contracted to do it, and I must keep faith with Gregory of the Trinidad Timber company. He's putting up the money, and I'm to do the work and operate the line. I can't go back on

"Not for my sake?" she pleaded. He shook his head. "I must go on," he

"Do you realize what that resolution means to us?" The girl's tones were grave, her glance graver.

"I realize what it means to me!" She came closer to him. Suddenly the blaze in her violet eyes gave way to one of mirth. "Oh, you dear big booby!" she cried. "I was just testing you." And she clung to him, laughing. "You always beat me down-you always win. Bryce, dear, I'm the Laguna Grande Lumber company-at least I will be tomorrow, and I repeat for the last time that you shall not build the N. C. O .- because I'm going to-oh, dear, I shall die laughing at you-because I'm going to merge with the Cardigan Redwood Lumber company, and then my railroad shall be your railroad, and we'll extend it and haul Gregory's logs to tidewater for him also. And-silly, didn't I tell you you'd never build the N. C. O.?" "God bless my mildewed soul!" he murmured, and drew her to him. In the gathering dusk they walked down the trail. Beside the madrone tree John Cardigan waited patiently. "Well," he queried when they joined him, "did you find my handkerchief for me, son?" "I didn't find your handkerchief, John Cardigan," Bryce answered, "but I did find what I suspect you sent me back for-and that is a perfectly wonderful daughter-in-law for you!" John Cardigan smiled and held out his arms for her. "This," he said, "is the happiest day that I have known since my boy was born." Col. Seth Pennington was thoroughly crushed. Look which way he would the bedeviled old rascal could find no loophole for escape. "You win, Cardigan," he muttered desperately as he sat in his office after Shirley had left him. "You've had more than a shade in every round thus far, and at the finish you've landed a clean knockout. If I had to fight any man but you-"

He sighed resignedly and pressed the push-button on his desk. Sexton entered, "Sexton," he said bluntly and with a slight quiver in his voice, 'my niece and I have had a disagreement. We have quarreled over young Cardigan. She's going to marry him. Now, our affairs are somewhat involved, and in order to straighten them out we: pun a coin to see whether she should sell her stock in Laguna Grande to me or whether I should sell mine to her-and I lost. The book valuation of the stock at the close of last year's business, plus ten per cent will determine the selling price, and I shall resign as president. You will, in all probability, be retained to manage the company until it is merged with the Cardigan Redwood Lumber company-when, I imagine, you will be given ample notice to seek a new job elsewhere. Certain-teed Roofing Resists Fire

Certain-teed Roofing is fire retarding and spark proof; consequently your fire risk is greatly reduced when Certain-teed roofs your buildings.

Burning embers carried by the wind from nearby fires are always a menace to old fashioned, inflammable wood shingle roofs. Certain-teed forms a permanent protection against sparks and embers and all such carriers of fire.

Because of the great risk of general conflagrations in congested districts. and of the lack of safe fire protection in the outlying and rural districts you should get this Certain-teed protection on your buildings.

In addition to being fire resisting, Certain-teed is a most economical roof. It resists all forms of weather attack-rain, sleet, snow, sun, etc. It is guaranteed by the manufacturer for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to the weight you select.

There is a scarcity of many types of roofing products-you can always get Certain-teed Smooth Surfaced Roofing, the most economical and serviceable roofing to be obtained.

See your dealer at once. He either has Certain-teed or can get it quickly from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse.
